

An Editorial
$30 a Month at 60!

All over this country there is an emphatic and almost unanimous demand for an upward revision of the wretched $20 a month now paid to old age pensioners at the age of 70. (Alberta adds a bonus of 35.)

The best answer the Hon. Mr. Ialey, Minister of Finance, could make to this demand was that he could not go into the business just now because it would upset his budget arrangements.

No more cold-blooded and unworthy reply could be made to a nation that day-by-day is becoming more acutely conscious of the crying need for all phases of social security.

To drag out the urgencies of the budget as an excuse for his failure to deal with Old Age Pensions was an affront to the intelligence of the Canadian people.

The current budget provides another thousand million dollars as a gift to our comrades-in-arms. Several more billions of dollars are provided to back up our fighting services with essential equipment.

To declare that the provision for a decent Old Age Pension would "upset" a budget of this magnitude is sheer nonsense. An adequate Old Age Pension does not conflict with the spirit of this budget. On the contrary, it is a necessary corollary to it. For what is the use of promoting the cause of our allies, while we treat with contempt and neglect a measure that is vital to our own Canadian morale?

The Old Age Pension Act has been in operation for many years and has required revision for years. Every political party has pledged itself to such revision. Surely the Liberal Party cannot escape the clear mandate given to it in the general elections of 1935 and 1940 when the winning slogan was "Make money your servant and not your master."

And yet Mr. Ialey confesses that he is such a slave to the huge sum involved in his budget that he cannot introduce the small amount required to do justice to every Canadian pioneer.

C.C.F. leader Coldwell spoke nothing less than the truth when he said, "Every member of the House of Commons is in duty bound to see that $30 a month at 60 years of age be given immediately to our worthy pioneers, without the cruel, unjust regulations surrounding the present act."

Prime Minister King recently confessed at a Labor convention, "We know now... our sufferings during the depression were entirely unnecessary." We have found that there never was a lack of money, only a false understanding of economics, plus a dishonest 'sound money' policy.

And that is the point. It will cost absolutely nothing for the Canadian people to give every Canadian a minimum of $30 a month at the age of 60. More than that, it will actually lessen the cost in money and unnecessary suffering and materially increase our national efficiency.

For the thousands of unemployed over 60, now merely existing, are costing friends and authorities much more than the expense of a straightforward pension of $30 a month to every citizen at 60.

Everyone in Canada with an income in excess of $600 a year is being taxed. And if the few with good incomes at the age of 60 were to receive the $30 pension, it would be taxed back into the national treasury anyway. The costly bureaucracy now administering the humiliating and discriminatory regulations of the Old Age Pension Act is purely needless dead weight.

Nearly citizens at 60 need the pension now. They should not have to wait for the larger social security plan next year or later.

If Mr. Ialey's budget can accommodate quite commendable billion dollar gifts to maintain the morale of our British cousins, it can just as easily accommodate provisions to maintain the morale of our own Canadian people.

We Can Win This War

The Lesson of Our Defeats

If Gamelin failed to launch an adequate attack on the German flank in September, 1939, when Hitler was heavily engaged in Poland, the tragic result (in this case the loss of France) is not to be explained away by either of the tabloids versions of "treachery at home" or "inadequacy of armament at the front" which have been allowed to obscure the salutary truth contained in the French disaster.

Gamelin and his generals had been pleased to power to exert the very thing that happened; that they had the choice of all military means, with abundance of time to make their decision of a date and time of action that they had been thinking and planning for ten years for this very eventuality. The German army on the Eastern frontier might somehow break the shackles of Versailles and threaten the gates of Europe again. It is to the point of insanity to say that they were not ready when the uninvited German thrust was made.

They were not only ready to commence a war with Hitler, they were prepared to inflict a defeat on him.

But the point of insanity is to say that they were not ready when the uninvited German thrust was made.

Ernest Manning was sworn in as premier, before members of the caucus which elected him. In the top photo Premier Manning is affixing his signature in the "Doomsday Book" as the volume containing signatures of all ministers of the province since 1905 is colloquially called. The oath was signed by Mr. Manning and the lieutenant-governor.

"I, Ernest Charles Manning, do solemnly and sincerely promise and swear that I will, daily and faithfully, to the best of my power and knowledge, execute the powers and trusts reposed in me as president of the Social Credit party of the province of Alberta. So help me God."

Social Credit Caucus

Selects Government Leader Unanimously

Hon. Ernest Manning, former provincial secretary and minister of trade and industry in the government of the late Hon. William Aberhart, is the new premier of Alberta. He was elected unanimously, and with breath-taking speed, at a Social Credit Party caucus in the legislative buildings Monday morning.

Thirty-four years old, he is the youngest premier in Canada. When he first took office in 1935, under Mr. Aberhart, he was the youngest cabinet minister in the British Empire.

In precedent-shattering ceremony in the office of His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, Hon. Manning was sworn into office before the whole caucus. The election announcement and swearing-in took only a few minutes, and Alberta's Social Credit government again had a leader.

The party caucus began at 10:15

Monday morning, with a minute's silence a tribute to the memory of Mr. Aberhart.

Then a letter was read from John Blackmore, leader of the New Democracy party, of the House of Commons, by James Hartley, chairman of the caucus.

The election followed immediately. It was agreed that the thirty-four Social Credit members of the legislature each signified their acceptance of the new premier.

The new premier addressed the caucus.

Interred at Alexandria

French Warships Now Joining Allies

By ROBERT DOWSON

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copy supplied by Associated Press

LONDON, May 31.—The French naval squadron of at least eight warships interned at Alexandria since the fall of France in 1940 has joined the Allies, a foreign office spokesman announced today.

The action follows a program of bolstering Allied naval strength in the Mediterranean and further negotiations between Britain and Italian fleet at a time when British, American and French forces in North Africa are preparing for an expected invasion of southern Europe.

The foreign office spokesman in a statement said that he expects the Allies in its own free will after negotiations conducted by Gen. Henri Honoré Giraud, French command in North Africa. Giraud kept the British government fully informed of his progress, the spokesman added.

SHIPS IN SQUADRON

The French squadron, under the command of Vice-Admiral René Emil Godfray, consists of the 22,180-ton battleship Lorraine; the eight-inch gun cruiser Suffren, 9,938 tons; Duquesne and Tourville both 10,000 tons; the six-inch gun cruiser Dupuy de Lôme, 7,260 tons; three destroyers and one or more submarines.

There probably will be some delay before the ships can be made battle-worthy again. French locks were removed from the guns when the ships were interned and the sailors' fixtures, French crews have been stationed aboard them. However, since negotiations have been completed, in time, additional French officers and enlisted men may be en route.

The foreign office spokesman's announcement follows a Vichy statement that the squadron had gone over to the Allies. French Naval circles at first were dubious, since the Vichy station at the port was considered neutral such reports which proved false.

The spokesman denied the Vichy assertion that the French naval men at Alexandria were "starved into submission."

U.S. Completes Conquest of Attu Island

base is between Attu and the present American base on Amchitka Island. Attu is 28 miles to the east of Amchitka. About 72 miles east Japanese shipping will find it risky business to try to supply the island, because of perhaps 10,000 men on Kiska.

Attu was the first of the Aleutian islands seized by the Japanese last June in their drive through the Midway and Dutch Harbor fields.

MAY BE WEEKS YET

Observers believed it may be a matter of weeks before the last Americans are liquidated on Attu. They are well supplied with food and ammunition and are well entrenched.

In what apparently was their last-slap-dash attack, a navy commando force of 100 men and 300 troops captured Fish Hook Ridge and swept down into Chicago Valley. The main Japanese force in the valley had been held off and beaten when it counter-attacked the American right flank.

The Japanese did not mention the enemy detachment which was holding out in the Lake Clark area, northeast of Sustut Bay, but it was considered likely that most of that group participated in the final attack.

NO AIR SUPPORT

American forces, who began the invasion of Attu on May 11, fought what appeared to be the last important air battle of the campaign to support. The communiqué said that the "unfavorable weather conditions prevented aircraft from a statement that hit-and-run flights in communications reporting on the Attu campaign and undoubtedly delayed the outcome."

Redistribution Bill Will Come Before Session

By R. T. RICHARDSON

Edmonton Bulletin Bureau

OTTAWA, May 31.—(CP)—A redistribution bill is definitely coming before parliament this session, it will not make its appearance until after the war appropriations are completed. This may mean several weeks before the bill is introduced, but it is being prepared.

Close attention is being given to redistribution by many members of the opposition, who believe the next parliament should contain three fewer members from Saskatchewan and four fewer from Saskatchewan than the present 100.

What is in store for constituency boundaries is not clear, but some sharp changes in constituency boundaries would be necessary.

Great care will be taken to see that the new boundaries will be fair to all constituents. The quota of population will be 51,000 voters.

GOING AHEAD

Earlier expectation that redistribution might be postponed until after the general election has been dispelled with speed and it is likely to provide a long, acrimonious debate. The custom is for joint committees to be formed to consider the bill in both houses.

Though it is too early to forecast changes with precision it is obvious that the Manitoba seat of Souris, which has been held by the Conservative party since 1935, will be safe. Japanese shipping will find it risky business to try to supply the island, because of perhaps 10,000 men on Kiska.

Premier Manning

Hon. Ernest C. Manning, by reason of his long and close association with Mr. Aberhart, was the logical choice as a successor to the late Premier. He brings to the task a clear understanding of the many other elements of public policy to implement which the Government was created, and in carrying on those policies he will be thoroughly familiar ground.

Mr. Manning has the advantage of being still a young man. He has had outstanding political experience and has to his credit an excellent administrative record of eight years. Three years ago he was given a remarkable popular tribute, when elected as one of Edmonton's members of the legislature by the largest majority ever recorded. If he can do the same for the premiership, and while Mr. Aberhart's dynamic personality must make it difficult for any successor to take his place, Manning understands the duties very well, having undertaken them the day after his election.

There can be no doubt that the late

Premier shortened his life by over-work.

The business of the head of a government is to lay down broad principles or policy, fix objectives, and decide upon means to attain them. If he can do this in the greatest advantage to the public and with regard for himself, he must leave to colleagues the details of administration.

Sir John Macdonald, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and Mackenzie King were all men of great ability, but to no one can be attributed the success of their governments.

These are all high qualifications for the premiership, and while Mr. Aber-hart's dynamic personality must make it difficult for any successor to take his place, Manning understands the duties very well, having undertaken them the day after his election.

SPORTS EDITOR

DOUBTLESS many better ball games will be played at Renfrew Park before the season is out, but a sufficient number of unusual situations arose in yesterday's U.S. Army-Hornet fixture to make the senior affair decidedly exciting at times for the league's largest crowd to date.

There seems to be an extra-spirited competition between the two劲敌 in the area this year and for the second time in the week-end schedule of them started out As a result, the fans were treated to some good baseball and the fans didn't have long to wait for things to happen.

Four different souvenirs have been on display for Capt. Walter Misko, Eddie Belter, John Quina and Lefty Johnson. Dodgers have a new Ed Lindberg under wraps and possibly others are still lurking around.

RECORD FOR BELTER

BELTER hit four batters yesterday, a new high for Lefty whose record has been overshadowed by excellent control. The Aircraft Repairs are just didn't have it on their side. Lindberg tried to stretch his single an extra base.

Sgt. John Guilickson, the Army's top baserunner, had a threat for lesser batting honors.

Tall John made three hits out of five trips yesterday, while in the first game he had two for three included in the list are two three-baggers.

McAuley and Len Gabel both made a pair of hits yesterday. Jim Kelley had a single in two attempts. Pitcher Jones appeared this time in centre on his only time up.

Next league game is on Tuesday night at 8 p.m. at the Hornet's Arndt Field. The second time Hornets and Dodgers play on Thursday.

Mayfair Golf Club Wins McMullen Trophy For 1943

COLLECTING 55 points in their matches against Municipal yesterday to give them an aggregate of 162 for the three-game round robin series, Mayfair golfers won the McMullen Cup, champion of the inter-club championship.

Highlands, with 49, the title of the year, and 12 placed second with a total of 132, while Municipal finished third with 133 and Edmonton Golf and Country Club was fourth with 48 points.

At the conclusion of the first two rounds, Highlands had a one-point lead over Mayfair, their respective totals being 168 and 167, but although they lost the final round, even so, in Sunday's matches, Mayfair "B" came through with a 35-5 score to give the south side club a comfortable margin on the scores.

At the same time Highlands had won at home and the Central City "C" team winning 27-23 and the "B" 26-17, but still managed to give them the runner-up position and a four point lead over Municipal.

Playing on their home links yesterday, the Central City team Reg Moon to defeat "Whit" Mathews and J. V. Aitken B-L, and Mike Townsend, W. E. W., were from the A. and A. F. Easly by the same score.

Glen Gray and Ron Anderson however, from Tom Vickers and Vern Moehl and W. L. Hearn and V. C. Bradford from W. Ewens, were the other two teams to give to the two clubs an even break, 20-20.

At Mayfair three of the home teams blanched their opponents and the other pair secured a even split to give Mayfair "B" a total of 35-3 and "C" 26-17, but Henry Martel and R. Jennings, Eric Martel and I. A. (Lefty) Grove and Ruthie O'Conor, J. O'Conor all won their matches for Highlands at Country Club, J. O'Leary and C. Doligan and J. S.

Quite a comeback and came through with the necessary punch when Lefty Johnson belatedly, in the second inning and was forced to the sidelines. The Army coach had just made the necessary call and went out trying to stretch his single an extra base.

CAPTAIN LEADING HITTER

ARMY's Frank Wrigley, in his first game, came into the game and in the second inning and was forced to the sidelines. The Army coach had just made the necessary call and went out trying to stretch his single an extra base.

Sgt. John Guilickson, the Army's top baserunner, had a threat for lesser batting honors.

2 Thousand Honor Late Premier at Memorial Service

State, Church Officials Are Among Congregation As Final Tributes Paid

Two thousand citizens of Alberta paid tribute Sunday afternoon to the memory of Honorable William Aberhart, at a special memorial service held under auspices of the Edmonton General Ministerial Association in McDougall United Church. People from all walks of life paid honor to the late premier of the province—high officials of state, church, those with whom he worked; those he led; those who opposed him in public life—all were in the huge congregation which filled the church to its doors, and overflowed onto 101 Street and the brow of McDougall Hill.

From hushed silence which held the congregation while two tributes to Mr. Aberhart were paid, one by Rev. R. E. Miller, President of the General Ministerial Association, the other by Hon. Ernest C. Manning, the stirring leader of the Alberta Social Credit Soldiers. Mr. Aberhart's favorite hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past," was marked with a devout reverence, as last respects were paid to one of the outstanding men of Canada's public life.

Prayer at the service was Rev. Lester Young, pastor of First Baptist Church, and past president of the Ministerial Association. Following the Intermission, at the conclusion of the hour-and-fifteen-minute service, the hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past," was the signal for a general congregation, and from Psalms 90 and 36 Rev. Peter Dawson, Speaker of the Alberta Legislature, read the outstanding portions of the outstanding man of Canada's public life.

Prayer followed.

After Scripture Lessons, read by Rev. Mr. Young, a choir selection, "Come On, Come On," was given by the Ministerial Association. PRAYER FOLLOWS

After Scripture Lessons, read by Rev. Mr. Young, a choir selection, and prayer by Archdeacon S. F. Tachibana, came "Onward Christian Soldiers." Mr. Thompson was present.

Mr. Thompson, who is minister of Methodist Church, the Edmonton church, on behalf of Edmonton churches.

"Regardless of political or religious views, we are gratified to know that Mr. Aberhart gave his life in service to his fellowmen," Mr. Thompson said.

"Whether the service he rendered was in a schoolroom, or in the premier's office, he brought his whole heart into it. He had convictions, real ability and the influence of a powerful personality, public and private life, was never faltered or failed in bearing open and unashamed testimony to his faith."

THE QUESTION

The suggestion has been made by many relatives, veterans and others that Mr. Aberhart gave his life in service to his fellowmen. Mr. Thompson said:

He had convictions, real ability and the influence of a powerful personality, public and private life, was never faltered or failed in bearing open and unashamed testimony to his faith."

THE ANSWERS

Mrs. R. McINNISH, however, I think that about the most I can say is that I have heard of yet. If you want to know more about the confusion and suffering of men, unemployment will be avoided.

A RETURNED SOLDIER from the present war: That plan would not affect me as I have already been discharged. I am not looking for work, but I am looking for a place to live.

JAMES ALLAN, 20, employee: I feel sure that if a plan will be adopted. We certainly cannot afford to risk war again. When we view the enormous expenditures during the war such a plan does not seem likely.
